SULD, AND GOT THE MONEY .- A Santa Cruz man, we are told, having secured a portion of the car-go of the Sir John Franklin, consisting of a pipe of gin and two barrels of spirits, imparted his secret to a friend. The friend, thinking to do a smart thing, gave the agent of the underwriters information of the fact, and the liquors were promptly exhumed and taken into possession. The Santa Cruz man, finding his booty taken in charge, grew mad-very mad, and claimed salvage. The agent mollified him with sixty dollars, and peace was restored. On examination it was discovered that instead of gin and spirits, they had paid salvage on a pipe and two barrels of sea-water. When the liquor was abstracted and the sea-water supplied, is a matter about which there is no positive proof, though the agent feels badly sold and has his own opinion about the matter. The Santa Cruz man has got the money, and if a charge is intimated he demands proof. Sharp, down the coast.-Morning

RECOGNITION OF THE VALOR OF A BOY VOLUNTEER .- The Ohio military agent (Wetmore) at Washington presented, lately, Nathaniel McLean Gwynne, Company H, Eighteenth Ohio Cavalry, a lad of fifteen years, to the Secretary of War. The boy distinguished himself at the battle of the "Crater," before Petersburg. He was counseled by his officers, before the fight, not to go in, as he had not been mustered; consequently was not obliged to do so. He indignantly replied: "My family are of a different stock from that, to be left behind to limber in the rear." He went into the desperate charge which soon followed. A piece of shell crushed his left arm, which had to be amoutated soon after. After a few pleasant words to the lad the Secretary or-dered a medal to be prepared for

Our John came home in a towering rage about it, "Melican man belly much fool; too much no sabe ; big man fraid Chinaman shoot 'em; Chinaman no shoote; cracke no hurte. He catche me -no good. San Francisco all time shoote; me go San Francis-co. Marysville muche dam !"

The Platte Indians.

We are forced, reluctlantly, to the conclusion that the hostile Indians of Colorado, Nebraska and Southern Dakota, will have affairs pretty much their own way for some time to come.

They number, from all accounts received, from twenty-five hundred to four thousand warriors. They are well mounted and are armed with rifles, carbines and revolvers. There are not soldiers, sufficient, on the Platte river and in the country adjacent, to successfully cope with them. The fact of one hundred men being compelled to pursue and engage a body of Indians estimated at not less than five hundred, certainly indicates a lack of necessary military force.

The Indians bave already destroyed our mail service. Now, the telegraph line is the object of attack. We cannot decide which of the two annoys us the most-the loss of the mail service or the loss of the telegraph. Both are absolutely necessary. The Indians appear to have lost their dread for the "lightning talker;" but, we more than half suspect that white men are in league with them.

Unless they are speedily brought to ferms by a vigorous campaign, we will be compelled to abandon all hope of any emigration from the East during the coming season. We must prepare ourselves to pay very high prices for everything we may require-probably not be able to procure many articles required at any price.

A vigorous campaign cannot be conducted to a successful termination unless more soldiers are placed in the field. It certainly does not appear well, on paper or anywhere else, to permit the great overland highway to be completely blocked and held by a band of red devils who should be wiped out of existence. The citizens of Colorado are making efforts to raise and equip men for service; and orders have been received to fill up the 1st Colorado Cavalry with

The establishment of Posts along the route, from Latham to Seneca, at inter vals of one hundred miles, would be better than the present manner of operation. A still better plan would be to have fifteen or twenty soldiers at each and it was agreed to upon divisionstation to travel with the stage. The mail and telegraph are needed. We hope that measures will be speedily employed to secure both to the citizens of the in-

We are fully satisfied that the soldiers in that section have done all that can be done in the premises, so far as they are concerned. It is not, however, reasonable to expect-neither do we expecttribes of hostile Indians.

OUR NAVY .- We have 671 vessels of all kinds in the service, making an aggregate of five hundred thousand tons. The best proof of the effectiveness of our blockade is found in the simple fact that 1.979 vessels have been captured since the rebellion commenced. The present Administration has expended $280,000,000 on war vessels-a large sum of money; but, it has given us one of the finest navy in the world.

Delightful-Californians are now basking in a warm sunlight and genial atmosphere. Ripe strawberries, new potatoes, asparagus and other vegetables are now in abundance in the San Francisco markets.

THE appointment of Charles A. Kirkpatrick, late As-istant Surgeon of the 3d Infantry, to the position of Surgeon of the 8th California Infantry, is officially announced in the Sacramento Union of the 3d inst.

Proposed Increase of Pay.

We find the following report of Legisative proceedings in the Virginia Union. We publish the same as an item of interest to the officers of the Nevada Cavalry, now serving in this District:

Senate Bill. No. 58, "An Act for the relief of the officers and soldiers of the Nevada Volunteers," was taken up, and sections and two read.

Mr. Proctor said be should move to strike out all that portion of the bill re-lative to paying the money subject to the order of the Commander-in-Chief on the Pacific coast. He should do so uness he could see the reason of it. Gen. McDowell, as the Commander of the Pacific coast, commanded the Nevada Volunteers, and had control of their compensation so far as the compensation paid by the United States was concern-He would ask for an explanation on this point from the author of the bill.

Mr. Hutchins explained that the money was to be paid only to men enlisted under the authority of the Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific coast, and not drawn at his order.

Mr. Hobart inquired where the money was to come from. There was no mili-tary tax, and this bill levied the full amounnt of taxation allowed to the

Mr. Hutchins said he was much surprised that the Revenue Bill had no provision for a military tax. Heretofore we had had a tax of twenty cents for military purposes. Had that tax been put in the Revenue Bill it would have been amply sufficient. This bill only involved the annual expenditure of some forty-two or forty-three thousand dollars. To the people the sum was a small one; to them it was a great one. These men are actually suffering for it. The proposed section would give the officers nearly one-half of their actual pay. It was an actual necessity to them that something should be done. Their pay was not sufficient to support them in de-cency. There was not an officer in the service of the United States but what had spent his own money, not only in raising his company but in his own sup-

The uniform of a Lieutenant cost him nearly five months' pay. It was nothing but an act of justice, and every other State of the Union was doing the same thing.

Mr. Hobart asked where the money was to come from.

Mr. Hutchins said he would move fo amend the section by making the bounty to the Colonel $45, to the Lieutenant Colonel $40, to the Major $35, to the Captain $30, to the First Lieutenant $25, to the Second Lieutenant $25 per month. which increased their pay about onehalf of what it is now.

The question was taken upon increasing the Colonel's pay, and it was lost.
The question was taken upon increas ing the pay of the Lieutenant-Colonel, ayes, 5; noes, 4. The question was stated upon increasing the pay of the Major to $35 per

Mr. Hutchins stated that there was at present no Colonel, only one Lieutenant-Colonel, one Major, nine Captains, nine First, and nine Secone Lieutenants, which completed the list of officers commanding our volunteers in the field. Mr. James in explaining his vote, said that they had raise the pay of the Lieutenant-Colonel but refused to raise that that a few soldiers can whip several of the Colonel. He was in favor of raising all or none.

Mr. Doran said he was not much acquainted with the working of a military He had voted for leaving the Colonel's and raising the bounty of the Lieutenant-Colonel, from his own knowledge of of the working of the system in the com-pany. As the Lieutenant had the hardest work in the company, so he believed the Lieutenant-Colonel had it in the regiment. He was, therefore, in favor of raising the pay of the Lieutenant and Lieutenant-Colonel, and letting that of the others remain as it was

Mr. Proctor said, in reference to the pay of officers, he could speak from experience. He had voted for increasing it, and he did it out of pure sympathy. Having been a soldier bimself, he knew that the pay they received was totally inadequate to sustain the dignity and self-respect which any officer should maintain. The pay of a Captain in the cavalry service was about $60 per month, out of which he must turnish his own horse and equipments. All that they received save forage, including rations, amounted to $112 per month, paid in greenbacks. He could only also draw forage if he used it. No man in the service of the United States would draw he gets to keep himself and horse in proper condition is $112 per month in greenbacks. Was there any member on this floor who would work at any business for $50 per month? The pay for a servant has since been abolished, and no officer under the rank of a Lieutenant-Colonel was enabled to keep a servant. Under these circumstances, if we expect men to volunteer, some measures must be taken to induce men to enlist, or we should never have a full regiment in the

Mr. Hutchins read from the army reg ulations in confirmation of the state ments of the gentleman from Nye (Mr Proctor,) relative to the prohibition of the commutations of rations, abolition of the allowance of a servant, etc.

Mr. Proctor said that the common supposition in the community was, that bor ses were furnished to cavalry officers he would state that such was not the case. They furnished their own horses uniforms, equipments and everything.

Mr. Doran said he would go as far as any man in sympathy for our State sol-diers, and he would be very glad to see compensation awarded them in addition to that paid by the General Government It was argued, then, that our Govern-ment paid the officers and soldiers a sum inadequate to the support of that digni-ty which should attach to the military service. He would ask if it remedied the evil to promise them aid which we cannot give The Legislators themselves were laboring under disadvantages; they were not able to draw their own pay. He sympathized with the volunteers, and was willing to promise to give them such increased pay as was reasonable and possible for the State to provide.

Mr. Hutchins said that was exactly the point he wished to raise, and made an eloquent appeal to the patriotism of the Senators in favor of his amendment

Mr. Doran inquired of the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means as to whether the whole of 1 per ct. tax allowed under the Constitution, for the expenses of a State government, had not been already levied

Mr. Hobart replied that not only was it levied, but the whole of the assess ment had been pledged to the redempt ion of the bonds recently issued.

The question was then taken and the amendment was agreed to. The question was taken upon increas ing the pay of a Captain to $30 per month, and it was agreed to. Mr. Proctor moved to amend by mak ing the pay of the First Lieutenant $20 per month. Mr. Kellogg said that the matter had been referred to a committee. The committee had consulted with the army of ficers, and this scale was all the officers wished. He was in favor of inserting such a sum as we could pay. The aggregate amount proposed would be some $75,000 or $80,000 annually, to the men in the field now. If the other regiments proposed were raised, there was not taxable property enough in the State to raise the money.

Mr. Haines said that he was not in the Senate when this bill was first considered, but he was satisfied that the report of the committee would be such as he could sanction. He believed that the committee had reported a liberal amount in proportion to the resources of the State; but when the proposed to add fifty per cent, to that scale, he wished to have members look around and see where the pay was to come from. He would be willing to pay the soldiers double the amount if we had the resources to do it. It seemed almost ridiculous to pay eighty or ninety thousand dollars.

Mr. Hutchings corrected the statefrom actual calculation he knew the amount would be but some forty-two or forty-three thousand dollars. not the matter of $10 per month to the lower grade of officers, who were the most needy, which made the difference—but the little $5 per month to the men. As to where the mony was to come from. if in no other way, it could be raised by selling bonds at a discount. It was not only a matter of pride, but of patriot-

Mr. Kellogg said he was as patriotic and as sympathetic as the gentleman from Humboldt. He was in favor of giving these officers and soldiers all the money possible. He would give these officers and soldiers his salary for the winter. He was not there as an individual, but as a legislator, and as such should try to protect the interests of the sert $20, was lost.

The amendment to insert $25 was

ter debate was lost, by a vote of ayes 7, noes 8.

Mr. Sumner moved to amend the section so as to read: "To be paid in gold; and ailver coin of the United States; and the time from which said payment shall date, shall be from and after the passage and approval of this Act," which was agreed to.

Mr. Haines moved that the pay of a Colonel be raised from $40 to $60; which was lost by a tie vote of ayes 6, noes 6—the President voting No. Section 3 was then read.

On motion of Mr. Hutchings the words or regiment" were inserted in the first line after the word "company.

Mr. Kellogg moved to refer the bill to committee, with instructions to per-

Mr. Lockwood moved to amend by referring the bill to a special committee. with instructions to report the ways and means of carrying out the bill.

Mr. Seely moved to substitute the Committee on Militha and Indian affairs as the committee of reference, and that they be instructed to strike out all of Section 2, from line one to line twelve inclusive, and insert as amended by Senator Sumner.

After further debate Mr. Seely's amendment was adopted.

Salt Lake, Feb. 11th, 5 P. M. The following has just been received: "Mud Springs, Feb. 11th.

We found about two hundred and fifty poles cut down and burned or carrid away between Mud Springs and Pole Creek station. Found one hundred Iowa and Nebraska troops there, sent forward to repair the line. They report most of the poles gone between Pole Creek and Julesburg. They are digging the holes, and Captain Weatherwax is coming up with them. We took forward to Julesburg the message you sent by Hogan. The party we met at Pole Creek are expected here to-morrow night. The business going east should be received here and sent to Julesburg by express until the line is repaired. We will take charge of the express. Left Henderson with the repairing party at Pole Creek; Hogan is with me.

"The notorious Missouri guerrilla Hunter was recently arrested at Salt Lake City, while on his way to California with $300,000 in greenbacks, stolen from a bank at Bloomington, Mo., over a year ago. He was sent back by Governor Conness, and will be taken to Huntsville and hung."—Ex.

The Guerrilla, Thos. Hunter, above alluded to, was arrested in Salt Lake City (minus the greenbacks) last Fafi by order of Gen. Connor, and sent in irons to Brig. Gen. Clinton B. Fisk. at St. Joseph, Mo., on the 8th of December

WOULD NOT DO IT .- The rebel authorities advised the people of Georgia to lay waste everything during Sherman's great march through the interior. The people would not do it. On the contrary, they remained at home quietly awaiting Sherman's arrival, and found that he The debate was further prolonged, did not molest the property of any perand at the close, the amendment to in- son who was loyal. The Indians are threatening the land route and the telegraph line with serious disaster. They are now this side of Fort Laramie, and reported six thousand strong. This community looks to the troops in this District for protection, should the Indians extend their depredations into Utah ; and yet the cavalry squadrons stationed at this camp and Fort Bridger, have not a horse fit for ser vice. The Quartermasters have not a mule able to work to Green River.

Mormon leaders refuse to sell lorage to the Government. They forbid the people to do it. And what little grain we do obtain is by strategy. The most precious months of spring and carly summer must be employed in recruiting halfstarved animals. In the meantime officers and men must travel after Indians on foot-if they travel after them at all.

If the General commanding this District were to do as all other Generals in command do when they require forage -seize it and allow a fair price for itwe have no doubt that these leaders would raise the old cry of persecution.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Egan, February 7th, 1865. Editor Vedette : SIR :- In a letter from a correspondent, signing himself "Float Rock," inserted in your paper of the 17th ult., which has just come to my notice, I find there are statements made respecting the "Gilligan Company" which are quite incorrect. It the first place, there is no such Company, but as the ledge now being developed by the Social Company, is called the Gilligan. I thought some of your readers might infer from the rather ambiguous verbiage of your correspondent that the Social Company were working upon a ledge known as the "Star Company," and that consequently litigation would ensue. The Social Company are working on no ledges but those originally located by them, and have nothing to do with the Star Company ledge, which has been recently jumped, or re-located, by some other company, having no connection in any way with the Social Company. There are also some statements made in a letter from a correspondent. signing himself "Franklin," published in your paper of a later date, respecting the working of our mill being suspend ed; this is not the case, as we are working constantly. I do not believe these errors were made through any intention of misrepresentation, but through not knowing the facts. nor would I take any notice of them, only fearing that parties interested, being at a distance from here, would regard the statements as correct. You will confer a favor upon the meming this letter.
Yours, respectfully,

FILLED .- The 8th California Infantry sifully organized. No more men required for that regiment. The 2d Cali. fornia Cavalry only requires about fifty men to complete its full organization.

Local Matters.

FROM a letter from John J. Regers, formerly of Co. G. 3d Int., C. V., and who left here last October to be discharged in California, we learn that more than 20 volunteers who have been discharged in that state, have already reenlisted in the 2d and 8th Infantry, C. V. The volunteers whose term of service has not yet expired regret that they ever left Camp Douglas, as the scarcity of employment in California leaves no alternative for them other than re-enlisting either there or in the East, and more than one speak of returning here in the spring.

He gives the names of those who have re-enlisted as follows:

Rogers, Lavery and Hill (late of Co. G,) and Finerty and Shields (late of F), in the 2d Inf., C. V.

Farnham, Bourasso and Slaughter (late of Co. K), and O'Rourk and Ryan (late of Co. F), in the 8th Inf.

Breyfogle, Alley and Marsh (late of Co A, 2d Cav.) have re-enlisted in the same regiment.

There are at present at the Presido; nine companies 2d Inf. and the entire 7th Regt. Inf. Between the Presidio and Fort Point two companies of the 8th Inf., at Black Point four companies 8th Inf. and one company 9th Inf. Regulars. Besides these there are on Alcatraz Island seven companies, and on Angel Island four companies.

Rogers mentions having met S. E. W. Becker, who told him that he (Becker) was doing business with a large banking firm.

Mysterious.-A man named Garrison left Salt Lake City for Fort Bridger some weeks since and from the day he left the City, nothing has been heard or seen of him. He carried with him some few thousand dellars in "Gold dust." This in connection with his non-arrival at Bridger has naturally caused the impression that some "foul play" has been carried on.

Parties have been dispatched in search, but as yet no clue can be ascertained as to his whereabouts.

HIDING THE INFANT MOSES .-- A correspondent of the New York Herald, who was with Sherman's army in Georgia, relates the fol-lowing: Riding up to a house in Scriven County, I met an old woman and three grown-up daugh-ters at the deer, uttering frantic appeals for help. I enquired what was wrong, when the old woman pointed to a burning cotton-gin Freight to Boise City! and exclaimed;

"Put it out? You uns are burnin' me child !"

I asked where the child was, and succeeded in learning that it was in the burning gin-house. Away I went with some men, to rescue the innocent, and at the door met a ten-year old boy, who badly singed, issued forth from the fiery furnace. Returning to the house, I enquired how the boy came there. Putting the old pipe between her lips, to compose her nerves, the old lady at last ventured an explanation:

"Well," said she, "we uns heard that you uns killed all the little boys, to kep them from growing up to fight ye, and we hid 'im."

Strange as this may seem, among the poor ignorant dupes of Davis it is a common belief that the Yankees slay all the male children. We found many infant Moseses and Jeffs hid away in cellars and corn-cribs, but none in bulrushes.

SAN ANDREAS .- The Register of January 28th, peaking of Central Hill, in this vicinity, says:

This favorite gold mining loeality is likely soon to become ene of the most successful and thriving places around. A large company, composed af enterprising men, has been formed to explore the rish lead, supposed to continue from Chile Gulch. Several attempts have been made to strike it, but most of them have hitherto fell to the ground, for the want of capital, but this is not likely to retard the operations of the present company.

THE Electic Medical Journal argues in favor of men wearing a full beard, and among other things
full beard, and among other things
Fine Black Silks and Ginghams, says: "What would be said of him who would shave off his eyebrows or pull out his eyelashes, or have his head shaved all over? Such a practice would be pronounced uncouth, unreasonable, unhealthy, and necessarily wrong; yet if the hair of the head pertains to the laws of life and nature, who dare say the beard has a less important office to fill."
